

Archaeological treasures in your back yard?

As part of our effort to promote greater awareness of the town's rich archaeological past, we are also sponsoring an Artifact Identification Day at Taylor-Bray Farm on Saturday, April 20, 2019 from 1:00pm to 2:00pm. Visit the farm and meet Craig Chartier, the professional archaeologist who led the Taylor-Bray Farm Archaeology Project. Craig will answer questions about local archaeology. Want to know more about that "rock" you found while digging in your garden or that collection of "arrowheads" that your uncle gave you 40 years ago? Visitors are encouraged to bring in real and imagined archaeological artifacts for identification.

Pottery Shards

Native American Artifacts